“Harold Rosenbaum conducts with an expert hand... this should be all any Bach lover could want.”

The New York Times

“Hear ALL the choral movements from the cantatas of J.S. Bach. Join the performers in singing the final chorales.”

HAROLD ROSENBAUM
FOUNDER AND CONDUCTOR

Join me on a journey like no other. Immerse yourself in unparalleled musical and spiritual experiences. Go beyond cantatas familiar to you to discover hidden masterpieces overflowing with an astounding range of expression and musical styles.

There are 186 complete choral cantatas in J.S. Bach’s catalogue. But how many of us have had the chance to hear ALL the choral movements performed live? Now is your chance to do that in fifteen concerts with both The New York Virtuoso Singers and The Canticum Novum Singers spanning two seasons (2020-2021 and 2021-2022). You can participate by singing all the final chorales, as did the congregants in Bach’s churches, or simply sit back, relax and take in Bach’s transcendent creations.

WHEN:

- Saturday evenings in NYC
- Sunday afternoons in Katonah (Upper Westchester)

WHERE:

- St. Michael’s Episcopal Church, Amsterdam Ave. between 99th and 100th Streets, NYC
- St. Luke’s Episcopal Church, 68 Bedford Rd., Katonah, NY

WHO:

The New York Virtuoso Singers and The Canticum Novum Singers will rotate, performing 15 different programs in 21 concerts with fabulous pianists.

“The choir’s contribution to Bach’s mournful Cantata No. 118, “O Jesu Christ Meins Lebens Licht,” was beautifully polished.”

“Mr. Rosenbaum’s
readings are often remarkably eloquent.
The choir was at its best in the (Bach) motet
“Jesu Meine Freude.”
